

*Many of you have played the game MADD LIBBS.
The following are Christmas mad libs.*

*Tell all those playing to write a noun, verb ,adjective,
etc. in the given places on the following pages.
Don't read the passage back until they have filled in all the blanks. Not letting the players know that they are doing Christmas Mad Libs , makes things even funnier.*

The last one is so funny. I had my family do it. It's the words to "White Christmas" with some of the words missing. They filled in the missing words not knowing what they were giving the words to, and when I read "White Christmas" back the way they had written it, it was really funny.

May these bring a little laughter into your home.

Love, Aunt B
